

Pottery Painting Guide

All paints in this kit are non-toxic ceramic paints. They will not stain and can easily be cleaned with water.

IMPORTANT: Only use the paints provided in this kit. Do not use any acrylic paints, glitter or any other materials.

You can lightly sketch designs on your pottery with a non-toxic marker or a No.2 pencil. Markings will disappear once your pottery is fired. You can paint your whole piece a lighter color first, wait until the paint is completely dry and then sketch on top.

When layering colors, paint lighter colors first, then darker colors. Lighter colors painted over darker colors may not appear clearly after firing.

Allow paint to dry between coats.

Any unpainted areas will be glazed clear and will have a glossy white finish after firing.
